Требуемый опыт работы: не требуется

Полная занятость, удаленная работа

Modern gamers order paid help services to improve their skills or deal with the most difficult in-game activities, just like you order food, call a taxi or hire a fitness instructor at your gym.

Helping players enjoy their favorite games is precisely the kind of service we, LFGroup, have been providing since 2016. Over the past four years, we've helped more than 400,000 players solve their game-related problems and have also provided job opportunities for more than 3,000 semi-professional players who are now working as full-time pro gamers.

We are looking for a copywriter to join our mission to create better gaming experiences and contribute by writing informative and creative texts.

Basically, there are only three main requirements:

1. Sound knowledge of English (Upper-Intermediate or Advanced);
2. Strong writing skills. You have to be able to write creative, compelling and attention-grabbing texts to interest a reader and make them wait for more content.
3. Being a gamer. Ideally, you have to play yourself or at least watch Youtube completions. It's important for you to not only write according to the given assignment using the needed keywords but also to understand what you are writing about and who your target audience is.

What we are offering:

1. 850 USD of gross salary per month (with a possible pay increase);
2. Formal employment;
3. Remote 40-hour/week work (5/2).

What you'll do:

1. Write SEO texts for our website;
2. Write articles for our blog.

As you can imagine, experience in Social Media Marketing or with writing for a foreign audience will be a great advantage.
